PROMOTING NORWICH

Norwich BID has developed creative approaches to innovative destination marketing campaigns and projects to drive tourism and business in Norwich. Its campaigns have put Norwich in the shop window and have reached potential visitors and businesses across the UK and abroad.

Norwich continues to remain in a strong position with a vibrant and unique offering and a shop vacancy rate which is below the national average.

Its integrated use of social media, fixed web and mobile technologies have increased engagement levels with people visiting the city centre.

EXPERIENCE NORWICH

Norwich is a vibrant, creative city with a rich cultural heart. It has it all - amazing boutiques and independent stores, well-known retail brands and a fantastic array of eating and drinking establishments. Norwich BID's initiatives encourage people using the city centre to make return visits to enjoy all the city has to offer time and time again.

Norfolk is one of the safest counties in the UK and Norwich BID's initiatives reinforce its reputation as a welcoming, inviting and appealing destination - day and night.

"Having worked in a number of towns and cities across the country I have found the Norwich BID to be extremely professional, strategic and forward thinking in its approach and a powerful voice for the businesses that it represents. The BID not only acts as a network to bring businesses together to work collectively for the good of the city but has also influenced real change as seen through initiatives such as the city centre free Wi-Fi and its support of the Christmas lights."

Chris Luff, Store Manager, Mark and Spencer Plc

The BID has simply made the city work better. Better radios, better events bringing more people in and encouraging them to stay for longer and a far better welcome with the City Hosts out and about to help locals and visitors. There's been a level of cooperation that has made everything we do work better and made the city a better place to work and to visit.

Tim Bishop, Chief Executive of the Forum Trust

"Norwich BID is a highly innovative company, adopting a range of digital channels to engage with the general public and the businesses it serves and their drive and ambition has delivered exciting projects for all to enjoy and benefit from. Quite apart from all the digital comms channels an excellent example of this innovation is the Discover Norwich app, a fantastic free resource for visitors to the city to both research their journey and to get the most from their time here. Put simply it's amazing."

"With the support of Norwich BID, the city plays host to a calendar of exciting festivals and events throughout the year. Norwich also boasts a wonderful blend of heritage sites whilst positioning itself as a technology leading city, the City of Stories has something for everyone!"

Alan Waters, Norwich City Council Leader

"Norwich BID investment in the Norwich The City of Stories campaign has meant massive improvements to the way VisitNorwich communicates the city's tourism offer. BID partnership and investment has allowed VisitNorwich to get its destination branding right so that the way we position Norwich is real, honest and engaging."

Nick Bond, Head of Tourism, VisitNorwich

The Greener Cleaner project has been all about creating an environment in the centre of Norwich which is enjoyable for residents and visitors, and reflects our identity as a city. Creative Art plays a major part in this identity. The murals are an opportunity for creative people from the region to enhance their environment through their ideas and originality.
